§ 02 · THE REAL SCOPE

MARKETING RARELY HAS A MARKETING-ONLY PROBLEM.

What arrives as a marketing request often points to something else — an unclear offer, competing priorities, delayed decisions, capacity, or the customer experience after the click.

“I read the business conditions marketing depends on. Then I help determine what marketing should do next.”

§ 03 · THE SIGNATURE SEQUENCE

ONE CONTINUOUS STRATEGIC SURFACE

READ. • DIRECT. • BUILD.

Three stages of the same strategic surface. Each engagement uses only the parts the situation requires.

§ 04 • THE SYSTEM BEHIND THE READ

A PROPRIETARY INSTRUMENT, HELD BY A HUMAN HAND.

StrategyIQ captures signals, maps the pattern, surfaces the likely constraint, and structures a practical next move.

*The system reads the pattern.
Luis reads what it means.*

Offer clarity

RECOMMENDED NEXT MOVE

Reframe the primary offer for the audience showing intent. Rebuild the home around that reframe before touching campaign channels.

REAL ASSET • STRATEGYIQ READOUT FRAGMENT

Place a real, redacted readout excerpt here at production.

"The offer question appears across multiple intake responses. The system reads the pattern. I read what it means." — L.G.

ENGAGEMENT PATHS

START WITH THE READ YOU NEED.

No single path required. Enter where the situation asks you to. Shape and cadence are set together, once the situation is clear.

act from.

BOOK A CONVERSATION →

Duration, pricing, and specific deliverables are set together, once the situation is understood.

WHAT THE DIRECTION CAN BECOME

WHERE STRATEGY BECOMES SOMETHING YOU CAN SEE, READ, AND USE.

Once the direction is clear, LG Studio builds what is needed to carry it forward — strategy systems, editorial websites, identities, campaign assets, workspaces, and asset libraries.

Slots marked Real require production artifacts. Neutral mockups indicate placement only and do not represent client claims.

ARCHITECTURE FIRST. SURFACE SECOND.

Work that feels designed rather than decorated, and calm rather than loud. Clarity, usability, consistency, and trust come before ornament.

THE PRACTICE MODEL

SENIOR INVOLVEMENT IS THE MODEL.

“The person reading the situation, setting direction, and staying accountable for the work is the senior person you hired.”

LG Studio is intentionally small. I stay close to the decisions and remain accountable for the coherence of what gets made. When the work asks for additional craft or production capacity, I bring in trusted collaborators while holding the strategic and creative direction myself.
